GLOSSARY OF TERMS

Programmes of study

Undergraduate students follow either three or four year courses leading to the award of Bachelors of Arts, Law or Science depending on principal subjects chosen. Students following four year courses study a Foundation Year Programme in their first year. Students taking dual honours courses in approved subjects from the Board of Natural Sciences may take single honours programmes in one of these subjects in their final year. All students must pass at least one subsidiary course consisting of two linked modules. They must also pass at least one course (principal or subsidiary) from the Board of Natural Sciences, and at least one from the Board of either Social Sciences or Humanities. The University introduced modular undergraduate courses in September 1993.

CR = Credits 120 credits represents the normal workload for one academic year for full time students registered for a Bachelors degree course.

Degree Classifications

An approved degree classification scheme is available for each year of completion. This is an arithmetic formula for calculation of degree results from level 2 and level 3 assessments. Level 2 assessments have 50% of the weighting of level 3 assessments in the scheme. Some marks used in this scheme, particularly prior to 1997, may be indicated by codes YEAR2DEG1, FINAL1 etc.
